MOVING: JIM MULLER

CONSTRUCTION: Prof. Harry Wechter

TESTING: JIM MULLER

LISTENING: Girls from Wilton Hall

On From 6 to 11:30

After four months of construction and planning, WRUB goes on the air at 6:00 this evening.

Broadcasting from the third floor of Alumni Hall, the station can be found at 640 on the standard dial Monday through Thursday evenings from 6 to 11:30.

Under the supervision of James Muller, station manager, and Prof. Harry Wechter, adviser, the station went on the air for the first time this past Monday night for testing. A full schedule of programs will begin tonight.

According to Wes Hobby, station director, the station will aim at music, news, sports and weather. Additional emphasis will be on public service programs and educational broadcasts.

The second Fairfield-UB basketball game will be replayed tomorrow night at 7:30 with Howie Shapiro doing the play-by-play. This game was tape recorded on the scene last month at the Brass Recreation Center.

Tentative plans are being made to bring a live broadcast of the Harold Stassen talk, March 28, but engineering technicalities may force it to be tape recorded and replayed the following evening.

The station can only be heard in the campus area because of its low power output, restricted by the Federal Communications Commission. By this group's rules, the station must be carried only to the dorms and buildings between via the power lines. I will be possible, however, to hear WRUB on car radios on Park Place.

Top Armed Forces programs will be heard, with Stan Kenton and Billy Mays slated for tonight and tomorrow night, respectively.

It is anticipated that programming will run Monday through Thursday for the remainder of the semester. The schedule provides for disc jockeys to appear both on Monday and Wednesday or Tuesday and Thursday evenings.

Following auditions held last week, the following staff personnel has been selected:

STAFF ANNOUNCERS — Charles Kelly, Gene Silver, Harold Nevins, Samuel Marks, Ivan Schaffel, Gary E. Singer, Bernard Frank.

NEWS ANNOUNCERS — Allen Merenoff, Alan Cohen, Larry Levow, Larry Babich.

DISC JOCKEYS — Bernard Frank, Ivan Schaffel, Wally Shapiro, Terry Johanson, Sid Lee, Dennis Karlen, Arnie Miller, Bernie Milove, Dick Bock.

"We are particularly surprised that no girls tried out for on-the-air positions," commented Muller. "We still have openings for students—both male and female. Additional auditions will be held shortly."

WRUB will have one of WICC's engineers as its chief engineer. Gus Camito, a radio and TV engineer for the Bridgeport station and full-time student at UB, has been appointed to that position.

Another recent appointment is that of Bill Daly, who will take charge of commercial time in the capacity of advertising manager.

Clark Lectures

The Kazanjian lectures, inaugurated this year by the Calvin K. Kazanjian Economics Foundation, Inc., Westport, will be delivered at the Little Theater, in a series of two lectures, Thursday, March 24, and Thursday, March 31 at 8 P. M.

Dr. John Maurice Clark, John Bates Clark professor emeritus of economics at Columbia University, will deliver both lectures. To be given on the "Ethical Basis of Economic Freedom", the lectures are to be given first on the Bridgeport campus and later repeated at Columbia, Harvard and Yale Universities.

Presented by the department of economics, the lectures will be open to the public.

The sub-title for the first lecture on the evening of March 24, is "The Need for an Ethical Basis". On March 31, the title will be "How Can This Need Be Met".

Dr. Clark graduated from Amherst College in 1905. He received his Ph.D. from Columbia in 1910 and has received honorary degrees from Amherst, Chicago, Paris, Yale and the New School.

He has laid significant foundations in new areas with his books on Economics of Overhead Costs and Social Control of Business. These works placed him among the leading economists of his generation. His more recent books are Alternative To Serfdom, Guidepost of Change and Goals of Economic Life.

A recent biographical sketch places him in an intermediary position between the exponents of 'laissez-faire' and the advocates of a more active public policy.

Knepler in CD

Dr. Abraham E. Knepler, associate professor of sociology, has been named as a member of the newly organized Advisory Committee of the Connecticut State Department of Education's Civil Defense Education Project.

The Advisory Committee will help to develop curriculum materials appropriate to the adequate training of Connecticut's citizens for effective civil defense.

Dr. Knepler is currently serving his second term as president of the Connecticut Association of Adult Educators and is program co-chairman of the Tri-State Council on Family Relations.

Appointed by Dr. Finis E. Engleman, State Commissioner of Education, the Advisory Committee has Francis B. Sullivan as its director.

Nursing Convention

Ann Yerontakis, president of the Nursing Student Council, and Nancy Samuelson, representative of the Sophomore Class, will attend the nursing convention in St. Louis from April 30 to May 7.

The purpose of the convention is to acquaint students and registered nurses with the various methods used by nursing schools throughout the United States.

The girls were chosen at a recent meeting of the College of Nursing. No representative will be sent from the Freshman and Junior Class although some students are planning to attend.

Earnest Review On Our Earnest

The Office of Campus Productions can well feel proud of its most recent undertaking, "The Importance of Being Earnest".

The cast was, on the whole, very well chosen. Surprising in their debuts were Henry Southwick (Earnest), Debbie Pensak (Lady Brecknell) and Jennie Fogel (Miss Prism).

As far as we're concerned the entire show was stolen by Gary E. Singer (Algernon) and Southwick, who could have done a dialogue all night long and kept the audience in laughs.

But, from where we sat (front row center), the major congrats should go to Al Dickason and his back-stage crew. On such a small stage very little can be expected. The fine job that they did was shown by the applause, "oooh's" and "ahhh's" that followed each curtain opening.

Halsey to Speak

Pres. James H. Halsey will speak before the Stamford Student-Alumni Club on the topic "The Urban University; Answer to Expanding Enrollment", tonight at 8 P. M.

Invited guests include members of the clergy and school system officials. Dr. Francis Dolan of the biology department is also expected to attend.

The Stamford Alumni Club is composed of approximately 25 members.

Lady Knights Suffer Defeat

Overcoming an early UB lead, the NYU lassies of the YWCA cage league rallied to hand the collegians a 76-62 loss at the "Y" court last week.

The femme Knights jumped to a first period 21-20 lead, paced by the sharpshooting of Ellie Persip, who netted 11 of her 23 points, but were outscored in each of the next two stanzas as the winners built a comfortable lead.

"Babe" Herman, star NUY forward was the night's top point-maker with a total of 35 points. Marcelle Caccoppoli added 10 buckets to Bridgeport's losing cause.

Varsity 'B' Club

The first meeting of the Varsity "B" Club will be held in T-101 next Tuesday, at 10 A. M. This meeting is for those who have turned in their application for membership. The purpose of the meeting will be to elect officers and to organize plans to get all Varsity lettermen into active membership in the Club.

Fashions for Sportswear

The Fashion Merchandising Majors held their semi-annual fashion show at Seaside Hall last Thursday. Shown there were the spring fashions firsts for Milady.

The torso or dropped waist dress was evident in the shape of a sleeveless two-piece black linen dress. Straight skirted and square necked, this outfit was a must for a versatile wardrobe.

The very popular Italian stripped shirts were also shown in bright colors as well as in stripes. These were assembled with shorts and sleeveless blouses which were termed "Golf Blouses".

Leather jackets were shown again this year only now in the cartigan style with little slits on the sides, this any college girl knows is a must for a spring wardrobe and one that can take a good beating around.

The ever popular shirtwaist dress was shown along with another two-piece full-skirted dress with a wide cummerbund.

The final piece de resistance for Milady's trousseau or just for that little extra something in sleeptime wear, shorty nightgowns with the little matching panties another must for your fine collection of lingerie.

To top off all these fashions the girls showed a few tailored pieces of jewelry, a wide gold bracelet and in the famous bead family, a gold rope.

SPORTSCOPE

By The Purple Knight

It's past the season for winter sports and the spring baseball, track, tennis and golf seasons will be on us in a few days.

But we'd like to go back a few weeks and talk about one of the least talked-about winter sports: Fencing.

Very few UB students watched fencing this season... and fewer participated. We're aiming this at those who failed to bother to come to a home match to see how the sport is played.

We'd like to salute those who participated in this sport from Coach Bill DeSiero and Capt. Bill Jarboe, to the manager.

Other than these titled men, the team consisted of Dick Shelby and Paul Hennion, No. 2 and No. 3 Foilsman; Al Bedford, Andy Mirmina and Wes Hobby, Sabremen; Elio Garcia, Harold Weinstein and Frank Cavendar, Epeemen.

Although the season was a poor one (0-5), the team can be congratulated for its courage and determination. The opposition was not the weakest. On the other hand, it was made of top-notch opposition. Drew, Fordham and Yeshiva are among the top fencing schools in the East. And Fairleigh-Dickinson and Pace are no slouches, either.

This was the second season that the UB Foilsman saw intercollegiate competition. Only three returning vets were or the team from last year: Jarboe, Bedford and Mirmina. The rest were seeing the game for the first time: on any level: practice or inter-collegiate competition.

Arnold Troupers Stage Assembly at High School

By Joe Berardino

The Arnold Troupers, under the supervision of David Field, put on two assembly programs this morning at the Wooster Junior High School, Stratford.

Twenty-one men and six women participated in the program. The group left the Little Theater at 8 A. M. Included in the program were conditioning drills used for warm-up purposes in athletics.

"The Tumbling Tumbleweeds" demonstrated a few of the tricks at which they are adept. A feature of the show was the Balance Beam, starring Yolanda Delmore. The act was put on in between halves at one of the basketball games with Fairfield. Jim Hutterly did a vocal accompanied by Martha Gilbert of the Arnold Division.

The Collegians, a two-some comprised of Barbara Cohen and Al Zerillo, gave a performance. This act placed second on Contest Carnival over CBS earlier this year. A highlight of the show was the Vaulters. Dressed in white uniforms, this group demonstrated their agility on the Horse.

Closing the show was a statuary celebrating the 100th anniversary of the YMCA. The first tableaux portrayed the founder, Mr. Williams and his friends as they greet a new guest. The second tableaux was a campfire setting reminiscent of experiences enjoyed by older members of the organization. A third tableaux displayed and demonstrated some of the equipment used in the gymnasium.

The final tableaux portrayed the various countries that are linked in this world organization.

This exhibition of the Arnold Troupers is part of the overall objectives of the group which include the development of a gymnastic crew capable of putting on more exhibitions of this type.

Segments from this exhibition will be part of the entertainment to be shown at the Annual Faculty Spring Buffet, Sunday at Marina Hall.
